

John Thomson

I love the written word. That's why I created Woodfall Media, my platform for all forms of writing whether for print, online, or broadcast. I can be reached at woodfall@shaw.ca

Please refer to these pages as examples of my work. Hovering over the picture or the text of a selected article will take you to a PDF or a Webpage. The stories are posted in their entirety. The videos are excerpts.

Or log onto my LinkedIn page for details on my background. In a nutshell, I come from news and current affairs television where I researched, reported, and produced factual features and documentaries. My writing career started as a spin-off from my TV work and today I write for a variety of trade, specialty, and literary publications. I have been published in:
