ABOUT

I am a French student completing my final year of Bachelor (Hons) in Journalism at Dublin Business School. I have an open mind and a creative spirit. I am passionate about writing and I love photography, art and editing/creating videos.

I lived abroad in the USA, Spain and now Ireland. Those international experiences taught me how to adapt fast and made me more and more open minded.

Since coming to Ireland I gained work experience and valuable skills. I am now extremely motivated and ready to work.
