GENERATION QUIZ:

Which one are you part of?

BY Brahmjot Kaur

The Pew Research Center explains that a millennial is anyone born between 1981 and 1996, while those born between 1997 and 2012 are considered Generation Z. There are also the cuspers of Generation Z and Millennials who are classified as Generation Z but can also relate greatly to Millennials. These so-called "Zillennials" are a blend of both and were probably born between 1997 and 2000. Please note that while some may consider themselves one generation and relate more to the other, there are no clear lines and indications of who is what. Each generation is considered its own generation when a large group can relate on a few commonalities, not by any particular years. Childhoods and personalities vary based on several things like family, friends, and geographic locations so just have fun!

1. What TV show would you consider culturally impactful in your childhood?
A. Malcolm in the Middle
B. Suite Life of Zack and Cody
C. Jessie
2. What song would you be jamming to your middle school dance?
A. Sorry Not Sorry by Demi Lovato
B. California Girls by Katy Perry
C. Buy You a Drink by T-Pain
3. What movie did you and your friends get excited to see on a Friday night after a long day of (high school) classes?
A. The Dark Knight
B. Ant-Man and the Wasp
C. The Hunger Games
4. Do you remember using Netflix when the company only provided disc rentals through the mail before they introduced video on demand services?
A. Yes, even the concept of having DVDs mailed to your house instead of going to BlockBuster was revolutionary
B. I sort of remember but it definitely isn't a strong enough memory
C. No, I only really remember it as a streaming service
5. Who was your favorite celebrity power couple growing up?
A. Kim Kardashian and Kanye West
B. Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie
C. John Legend and Chrissy Teigen

HONORARY MILLENNIALS

Congrats! You are officially an honorary millennial! You can pride yourself on your extensive knowledge of pop culture and your refined tastes, just like the big kids!

4-6 points

A TRUE BLEND

Just like a strawberry-banana smoothie, you're a true blend. Even though you are a Gen Z, you found the perfect balance between both worlds. When talking to older people you can relate and when you talk to those slightly younger, you can still relate! A win-win!

7-10 points

A TRUE GEN Z

You're true to yourself and the culture you grew up with! You have fun and have no problem acting your age. Your time to hang with the big kids is coming up, and while you might not completely relate, your own personality and vision of pop-culture is an important asset that some wish they had and understood.
