The Princeton Panthers opened district play over spring break with a pair of contests with Sherman. While their pitching gave them a chance in both matchups, the bats just couldn't come up with the rallies needed to pull off a win.

Panthers drop first two district contests

By Seth Dowdle

Despite stand-out performances from Cameron Walls and Braeden Ratliff, the Princeton Panthers baseball team was unable to secure a win in their first two district games against Sherman last week.

Princeton, who opened district on Tuesday, March 12 in the midst of a three-game losing streak, couldn't get the bats going against Sherman. Walls connected for a double and reached the hard way by being hit by a pitch.

He was also a menace on the base paths for the Bearcats, stealing two bases. Still, that production was all that the Panthers could muster offensively in a 4-1 defeat to Sherman.

Fast forward to Friday, March 15 and Princeton had the opportunity to avenge that loss with this one coming at home.

The Panthers trotted out James McGill to toe the rubber and he pitched well on the night. He went three innings and allowed three runs on just three base hits.

However, even with that solid outing, the Princeton offense couldn't take advantage. Sherman scored two in the second and one in the fourth to take a 3-0 lead. The Panthers responded with their first run of the game in the bottom of the fifth when Walls tripled home Marlon Alvarado to make it 3-1.

Sherman got right back in the saddle and teed off in the sixth with three more runs to extend their advantage to 6-1. To their credit, Princeton didn't quit fighting, as they managed to score three times as well in their half of the inning.

Felix Martinez started the rally with a run-scoring single. Alvarado hit a sacrifice fly to bring another run home. Martinez also rounded out the frame with a steal of home to cut the deficit to 6-4.

Still, it wouldn't be enough. Sherman scored once more in the top of the seventh and that was all she wrote as the Panthers couldn't get anything going in the final inning of the contest, losing 7-4.

Princeton will look to earn their first district win on Tuesday, March 19 against Denison. Due to print deadlines, the coverage of the Panthers' home game versus Denison on Tuesday will be in the March 28 edition of The Princeton Herald.

They'll play Denison again on Friday, March 22, this time on the road. First pitch is at 7:30 p.m.

Farmersville pushes win-streak to five

By Seth Dowdle
sports@csmediatexas.com

The Farmersville Farmers baseball team has been on a tear in March.

After losing three consecutive games at the beginning of the month, the Farmers (11-5, 1-0 District 13-4A) has rattled off five straight wins, including a 7-0 shutout in their district-opener against Ferris.

The winning streak began on March 7 in the Edgewood Tournament when the Farmers' offense came to life in a 13-4 victory over the Muenster Hornets.

Farmersville utilized a fantastic pitching performance from Jayce Fagan in their next win the following day versus Quitman where Fagan threw four no-hit innings en route to a 8-0 triumph.

That same day, the Farmers were locked in a pitcher's duel with Brownsboro where they once again came out on top. Farmersville starter Mason Erwin delivered six strong innings, allowing just two runs on four hits. He struck out six and walked just one as the offense gave him just enough run support in the 3-2 win. Jordan Fuller delivered the clutch RBI hit to give the Farmers the lead in the fifth.

Their final game of the tournament saw them matched up with the Wills Point Tigers. Wills Point put up two runs in the top of the first and then two more in the top of the second to take a quick 4-0 lead. Farmersville scratched and clawed their way back. After a Jahir Vanegas walk kicked off the bottom of the second, Kaden Johnson got him over to third on a single. During the next at bat, Vanegas managed to steal home to give the Farmers their first run of the contest. Another run crossed the plate when Brady Gray drove in Johnson with a sacrifice fly to cut the deficit to 4-2.

From there, the runs kept coming for the Farmers. A walk, error and single loaded the bases for Farmersville in the bottom of the third, setting up Johnson to knock in a run of his own on another sacrifice fly. Fuller and Vanegas, who reached on the aforementioned error and single, respectively, scored when Brayden Malone singled to center field to give the Farmers the lead. They plated one more run in the frame, and that ended up being enough to take home the 6-5 win, their fourth in a row.

District competition started against the Ferris Yellowjackets on Wednesday, March 13. Farmersville dominated from start to finish, putting up runs in the first three innings to take a 5-0 lead. Starter Caden Norman threw a complete game shutout, going seven innings and allowing just one hit. He struck out 12 and walked only one. He also recorded two hits.

Farmersville will continue district play against Ferris on Tuesday, March 19. Due to print deadlines, the coverage of the Farmers' game against Ferris on Tuesday will be in the March 28 edition of The Farmersville Times.

They'll then play Carrollton Ranchview for a two-game series on Friday, March 22 and Tuesday, March 26. First pitch is at 7:15 p.m. this Friday.

Austin Smith/C&S Media

Farmersville's Cade Norman pitched a gem last week in the Farmers' 7-0 win over Ferris. Over seven shutout innings, Norman allowed just one hit and one walk, while striking out 12. He also had two hits at the plate.
