With great style comes great responsibility – these stonewashed Pampa boots help preserve the environment with their 20 per cent recycled materials, and lacetips made from bio-degradable plastic. The cork-laminated sock liner adds an extra level of comfort along the way.

With the iconic Palladium design bringing the style, every element of this boot is intended for it to be worn with ease. The neoprene upper is like a second skin, while the innovative PARADROP midsole provides cushioning and the straps allow a customized fit.

In these clean canvas athletic trainers, kids can move from the pitch to the track to the streets and back. They're lightweight and flexible, and the upper is partly closed to protect the feet from stones or dirt.

Every part of this shoe is fine-tuned for perfect practicality. The Lite + outsole is extra-lightweight, rubber inserts ensure the highest level of grip, while the waterproof treatment, stitching and gusset keep your feet dry whatever the weather. Explore without gravity.

The vintage branding and retro colours of these Pallaphoenix Mids give an on-trend varsity style. The cuff around the top is another timeless touch of class from our archive.

The alternative camo pattern of these patchwork corduroy boots is a daring look for those who like to repurpose and reshape the past into something new. The classic Pampa outsole is given a unique speckled treatment due to the recycled rubber components, creating a vintage feel for a sustainable future.
